YALE AGAIN VISITED

By Bold, Bad Burglars.—This Time They Visit Business Places.

Monday morning when several of our business men visited their stores it was evident that burglars had been at work in our otherwise peaceful village. Rounds & VanCamp's hardware has been entered by the front door and about $300 in change taken from the till. Nothing else was disturbed to the firm's knowledge. At J. C. Collin's grocery all that was taken was some candy and grapes. E. B. Fuller & Co.'s general store was also visited but nothing taken.

The circumstances connected with these burglaries leads us to believe it to be the work of kids, yet when one takes into consideration that the front door locks are rather complicated, it is a wonder how anyone but an expert could gain admission.

Officers have the matter in charge and the guilty ones will be brought to justice if possible.

Obituary.

Died on Wednesday, Oct. 7, 1903, Mrs. Henry E. Welch. The funeral services were held on Friday, at 2 o'clock in the M. P. church. Rev. Fournier preaching the sermon. Burial in Elmwood cemetery.

Emma E. Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moore, was born in Brockway township May 15, 1876. November 25, 1903, she was united in marriage to Henry E. Welch, who with one child, Clayton, six years of age, mourn the loss of a truly devoted wife and mother.

Mrs. Moore was taken sick in April last while living on their farm, with diabetes but kept up mostly until near her death. On Monday she was driven to the home of her parents and Tuesday afternoon was taken to her bed where she died at three Wednesday morning.

This is a sad death for us to chronicle. From a strong, seemingly healthy, young woman, to be wasted away while in early life, in early widowhood and motherhood, is almost too sad a thing to contemplate, but the lifework of one so called away must be finished and completed and her presence needed above. We sincerely feel for the bereaved ones left behind and tender our deepest sympathy to the family and relatives.

Pratt's Barber Shop Sold.

On Monday of this week the barber shop owned and conducted for the past fifteen years by E. F. Pratt, changed hands, John E. Barcum, of Mayville, taking possession. Mr. Pratt has since been in charge while Mr. Barcum is at Mayville packing his household goods preparatory to moving here. From those of our citizens who are acquainted with the new proprietor we learn that he is a first-class artist and a gentleman in every way. During Mr. Pratt's residence here both himself and family have made many friends, all of whom will regret to see them move from our midst. This is not anticipated for a time at least.

An Unusual Event.

The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Waters was celebrated at their home in Wales, Oct. 1st, 1903. This worthy couple were married at Port Barwell, Ont., Oct. 1, 1843, and after living in Ontario for 20 years, came to Michigan where they have since resided. Five children, two sons and three daughters, and sixteen grandchildren are their descendants, all of whom, with the exception of one daughter and family gathered with the other relatives and neighbors and spent a very enjoyable day. Dinner was served to about 40 guests in all. Music, games, recitations, etc., followed. The old couple were the recipients of many costly and useful presents. The relatives from Yale who attended are Mrs. Mary and Mrs. Fred Lutz, Mrs. Bowles and Miss Lucy Lutz.

Public Meeting.

A mass meeting of the business men and citizens of Yale is called for Central Hall next Tuesday evening, Oct. 13th, at which time matters of importance relative to the oil well will be discussed. All are cordially invited.

A Perfect Painless Pill is the one that will cleanse the whole system, set the liver to action, remove the bile, clear the complexion, cure headache and leave a good taste in the mouth. The famous little pills for doing such work pleasantly and effectually are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Bob Moore of Lafayette, Ind., says: "All other pills I have used griped and sickened, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers are simply perfect." Sold by Grant Holden.

The Village of Peck.

The publisher of The Expressor visited Peck on Saturday last, being thankful to Stanley Moutney for the accommodation of a ride there and back. The drive was a very pleasant one. Since our last visit to that bustling, enterprising burg on the north of us many changes have been made both in the village and along the route. Within the past year Peck has been incorporated and several municipal improvements are evident, such as better streets and blocks of cement sidewalks. There is no question in our mind but Peck should have a railroad and will have one before many years. Then the town would make rapid, substantial strides.

A visit to The Times office found that printery busy with job work and Uncle Tom gracing the sanctum sanctorum. We spent an hour here in social chat with our brother and learned that he is gradually gaining in this world's wealth. The business men all carry large stocks in their several lines and are liberal patrons of printers' ink.

The town was filled with farmers and their wives and business was brisk. Three looks after the wants of the traveling public. Taking a conservative view of the place we are impressed that there are but few towns of its size that have more substantial business places or a more enterprising class of citizens.

Some of Peck's citizens carry the idea that Yale does not care to see that town advance. This accusation is far from being true. Yale has the most friendly feeling towards the village and its citizens and without a question of doubt would be pleased to see the place forge ahead.

Before leaving we enjoyed the hospitality of our old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yarnest, who own a fine large farm within the village limits, also other pieces of property nearby. They are pioneers of Elk township and have seen Peck grow from a mere four corners to the bustling business village that it is to-day.

Some of the Sick.

Babie Ray W., the little child of W. T. Losey and wife, is numbered among the sick ones this week.

R. H. Menerey was confined to the house the first of the week with stomach trouble.

Ruth, the little daughter of Geo. F. Wilson and wife, who has been very ill for some time is improving.

The many friends of James Brown will be pleased to learn that he is no worse, but a little better this week than last.

Mrs. W. G. Wight has been quite sick the past week but is much better now.

E. H. Drake has been somewhat under the weather the past week.

Sale Postponed.

On account of the rainy condition of the weather on Wednesday I postponed my sale of farm stock and implements to at one o'clock p. m. Sale to be held at my farm six miles west of Yale or 8 miles north and ½ east of Cape. Everybody invited. Wm. Will, auctioneer. JAMES RYCKMAN.
